ABOUT ME

Innovative Senior Designer with over 17 years of expertise, specialising in creating distinctive visual identities and bespoke web design solutions. My background combines in-house senior roles at prominent UK companies covering educational and corporate sectors.

I excel in working seamlessly with Marketing and Social Media teams to deliver exceptional projects that meet both creative objectives and business goals. My approach to design is client-centered, focusing on developing unique visual narratives tailored to each organisation's specific needs and audience particularly valuable for educational institutions seeking to differentiate themselves in a competitive landscape.
